Singapore

Guitarist for The Project Band, Gruv Therapy and The Ninth Order

About Me

Sean Rezel is the current guitarist for The Project Band, Ninth Order and Founder of ImTunedIn.

Sean Rezel is a rhythm guitarist who took an interest to music at an early age due to his family's love for music. Sean picked up guitar at the age of 15 and within one month during the school holidays in June; learnt all the basic chords on an old, second hand Aria Pro electric guitar.

Sean's guitar playing style is heavily influenced by Pearl Jam's rhythm guitarist, Stone Gossard. His other heroes are rhythm guitarist Steve Cropper and Keith Richards. Growing up in the late 80s and early 90s, it was unavoidable that Sean's music was heavily influenced by the 'Seattle Sound' and its Grunge movement with bands such as Pearl Jam, Nirvana, Soundgarden, Alice in Chains, Mudhoney, Green River and Mother Love Bone.
